

Your right to information

On 1 July 2010 new right to information legislation came into effect, replacing the former freedom of information law.

The new law:

- creates new rights to information that are designed to meet community expectations of more open and transparent government
- encourages government agencies to proactively release government information.

You can find out more about your right to information and new ways to access NSW government information on the Office of the Information Commissioner (OIC) website at www.oic.nsw.gov.au.

Accessing Events NSW information

We are currently developing our Publication Guide about what is available from Events NSW under the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009.

In the interim, our website provides information about Events NSW, events and assistance available for events. Further, our media centre provides current information on Events NSW activities.

If you require additional information or wish to lodge an access application, please contact our Right to Information Officer at:

Telephone: 02 8114 2400

Email: john.hopwood@eventsnsw.com.au

Address: Level 5, 88 George Street, The Rocks NSW 2000

Disclosure log of access applications
